

Privacy Policy

Welcome to HostHub

We are committed to protecting your personal data and your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, disclose, and protect your information. By using our services, you agree to the terms outlined in this document.

By using our services, you acknowledge that you have read and understood our Privacy Policy.

Personal Information

We collect personal information that you voluntarily provide to us when registering for an account, placing an order, or contacting us for support. This includes your name, email address, phone number, billing information, and any other information you choose to provide. During the registration process, we collect and process certain personal data as part of your registration details.

This includes standard information such as your name, address, phone number, billing information, and email address required to process your order. If you use a credit card as your primary payment method, we do not collect or store any payment information such as credit card numbers or security codes.

You disclose this information only to the relevant payment service provider.

Usage Data

We automatically collect information about your interaction with our services. This includes your IP address, browser type, operating system, referring URLs, and pages visited on our site.

Cookies and Tracking Technologies

When you visit our website and portal, it contains and uses cookies provided by us or third parties. Cookies are small strings of code stored on your computer. We use these cookies to collect information about your visit to our website, your use of the Services, the type and version of your browser, your operating system, and other similar information. Cookies may also be used to track your behavior on the site and to display advertisements to you on other websites. Additionally, you can delete cookies stored on your computer by following your browser's instructions. However, blocking our cookies may make it difficult or even impossible to use our Services.

Data Retention

We retain your personal data only as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected, including any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements. We regularly review our data retention practices to ensure compliance with applicable laws.

Data Security

We implement a variety of security measures to protect your personal data from unauthorized access, use, or disclosure. These measures include encryption, firewalls, secure servers, and regular security assessments. Despite our efforts, no security measures are completely impenetrable, and we cannot guarantee absolute security.

Privacy Policy Changes

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our practices, legal requirements, or other factors. We will notify you of any significant changes by posting the new Privacy Policy on our website and updating the effective date. Your continued use of our services after such changes constitutes your acceptance of the new terms.

When We Might Disclose Your Personal Data

➤ Case 1. With Your Consent

We may share your personal data with third parties when you have given us your explicit consent to do so.

➤ Case 2. For Legal Reasons

We may disclose your personal data if required to do so by law or in response to valid requests by public authorities (e.g., a court or government agency). For example, if you knowingly violate our service usage rules, we reserve the right to cooperate with law enforcement agencies and/or reputable organizations for further actions.

➤ Case 3. To Protect Our Rights

We may disclose your personal data to protect the property rights and safety of our company or our other customers using our services. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organizations for fraud protection and risk reduction.
